REFLECTION # 8- MY PROGCON CLASS EXPERIENCE

Our 2nd Term has come to our end and so as our PROGCON Class and this will be my last reflection. From my Experience in this class is exciting and interesting that I had once thought that is boring and unrelated to my course but then I learned so much from this subject. It is started from flowcharts, pseudocodes and algorithm definitions, to its application to flowgarithm that I really really enjoy in doing up until now and still want to explore. And one of the things that I want to explore more is the different kind of Loops and Arrays because these topics are difficult for me as of now. I know that if im going to explore the flowgarithm i could expand my knowledge in programming and maybe I could also use this in the near future. It's so sad that this class is now an end because I will miss our activities and machine projects that we are doing, that I really thought it was hard but now I can do it in a half of an hour and also the KAHOOT and BLOCKLY GAMES that is really really really enjoy…
