REFLECTION

On my first day of PROGCON, I've expected that it would be a boring subject since it tackles about codes and programming.it would be like a normal class where we will just listen, taking notes then after that there will be an recitation or quiz. However, when we did an activity in Kahoot everyone is excited because of time and the scoring / ranking. It like an ice breaker for all of us and it also gives fun.

For the first week in Progcon, I have learned that even we are focusing to our different subject ,we still need to have some fun and relaxed so that we won't get stress everytime / everyday. So far this Progcon class is exciting and I hope that there are still different kind of exciting activities that we were going to do.
