REFLECTION

Last time in PROGCON, we researched and analyze what is a Flowchart and Pseudocodes. I felt bored at that time because we just researched it and we already discussed it in our ITCONCE and I thought it was easy but later on I got frustrated because when we did the actual encoding in the flowgorithm its not that easy.

When we are doing the Flowcharting and Pseudocodes, we really should follow the Signs and symbols so that it will run on the expected outcomes. One thing that I learned last time is that we should have to be patient in doing and learning things.
